Park's High-Class Dutch Bulbs In Choice Collections.

Park's Window Collection of Bulbs For Potting in Autumn.

I offer a splendid collection of Choice Bulbs for winter-blooming in window-pots. The entire collection I will deliver by mail for $2.00. Or, half of the collection I will mail for only $1.00. With every package I will include cultural directions. The variety of this collection is limited, because I do not wish to include bulbs that are likely to prove disappointing. Such things as Double Tulips, Crocuses, Achimenes and Gloxinias, though partially successful in the hands of the skillful amateur, are nearly always failures as winter-blooming plants, and I do not recommend them as such.

- 6 Single named Hyacinths, various colors.
- 4 Double named Hyacinths, various colors.
- 6 Roman Hyacinths, various colors.
- 6 Single named Tulips, various colors.
- 4 Trumpet Narcissus, various colors.
- 4 Polyanthus Narcissus, various colors.
- 2 Double Narcissus, various colors.
- 2 Chinese Sacred Lilies, golden, and white.
- 4 Campanelle Jonquils.
- 4 Allium Neapolitanum.
- 2 Babianas, assorted.
- 2 Fine Callas.
- 6 Fine Friesias.
- 2 Winter-flowering Gladiolus.
- 6 Spanish Iris, mixed.

- 4 Ixias, mixed.
- 4 Ornithogalum.
- 2 Oxalis, in variety.
- 2 Ranunculus, assorted colors.
- 2 Sparaxis, assorted colors.
- 2 Bermuda Easter Lilies, large bulbs.
- 2 Zephyranthes, assorted.
- 2 Arums, red and black Callas.
- 2 Brodiaeas, mixed colors.
- 2 Calochortus, mixed colors.
- 4 Chionodoxa giganteum.
- 2 Fritillaria meleagris.
- 4 Scilla Siberica.
- 4 Triteleia uniflora.
- 2 California Hyacinths.

100 bulbs, delivered by mail, all for $2.00, or half the collection, 50 bulbs, $1.00. No change will be made in these collections. Do not ask it.

- 4 Double named Hyacinths.
- 10 Single Early named Tulips.
- 6 Single mixed Tulips.
- 6 Double and Parrot Tulips.
- 6 Late Tulips.
- 6 Large Trumpet Narcissus, mixed.
- 6 Small Trumpet Narcissus.
- 6 Double Narcissus, mixed.
- 4 Jonquils.
- 50 Crocuses in three colors, separate.
- 4 Hardy Alliums.
- 6 Anemones.
- 2 Camassia esculenta.
- 6 Chionodoxa gigantea.
- 2 Bleeding Hearts.

- 4 Eranthus.
- 6 Grape and Feathered Hyacinths.
- 6 Iris, assorted.
- 6 Lily of the Valley, single crowns.
- 2 Chinese Pionies.
- 6 Scillas, in variety.
- 4 Snowflakes.
- 6 Giant Snowdrops.
- 6 Triteleias.
- 4 Lilies, assorted.
- 2 Sternbergias.
- 4 Puschkinia scilloides.
- 2 Large-flowered Day Lilies.
- 2 Hemerocallis flava.
- 2 Variegated Gladioli.
- 2 Hyacinthus candicans.

These 200 splendid hardy bulbs will be delivered by mail for $2.00. Or, half the collection, 100 bulbs, $1.00. No change allowed. Address all orders to

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL TULIPS

I offer, for 15 cents, a collection of the brightest and best single, early-flowering Tulips—10 splendid named sorts, representing all colors, as follows:

Artus, bright crimson-scarlet.
Adeline, dark rose, new and fine.
Bizard Pronkert, scarlet, striped yellow.
Grand Duc de Russia, rosy purple, flaked white.
Grand Duc de Orange, yellow, flamed scarlet.
Joost van Vondel, cherry red, feathered white.
Rosamundi Huyckman, carmine pink, flamed white.
Queen Victoria, fine white, faintly tinted rose.
Vander Neer, rich claret purple.
Yellow Prince, bright yellow, large and fine.

These are all fine blooming-sized bulbs, imported from Holland. They are of the best varieties known, unsurpassed either for house or garden culture. The entire collection, 10 bulbs, mailed for only 15 cents.

Get up a club.—For each additional collection ordered I will send a bulb selected from the Double and Parrot collection named below. Or, for $1.00 I will send seven collections of the above single early Tulips, enough for a gorgeous bed, and add an entire collection of the Double and Parrot Tulips (7 bulbs) offered.

DOUBLE AND PARROT TULIPS.

Alba Maxima, new, pure white, very large and double; a splendid sort.
Lady Grandison, vermilion scarlet, extra, double.
Count Leicester, orange and yellow; double.

Purple, bordered white, a showy double Tulip.
Admiral de Constantinople, Parrot, dark red.
Lutea Major, Parrot, bright yellow.
Perfecta, red and yellow, striped.

The above collection of brilliant Double and Parrot Tulips, 7 bulbs, mailed for 15 cents, or seven collections, enough for a fine bed, for $1.00. All are hardy, and very showy in garden groups. They are not suitable for house culture. They will be ready to mail the latter part of September. Order early, and the bulbs will be sent you as soon as ready. Address

The Orchid-flowering Spanish Iris.

A splendid collection of ten named sorts, embracing all colors, together with trial of PARK'S FLORAL MAGAZINE, all for TEN CENTS.

Few persons have any idea of the beauty of a clump or bed of the fine varieties of Spanish Iris. The plants are hardy, bloom freely, and show large, rich-colored, very attractive flowers. I am anxious to have these exquisite named Iris given a trial, and also to introduce the Magazine into many new homes, so make the following offer: For only 10 cents I will send the 10 fine named Spanish Iris, including trial of Park's Floral Magazine. If already a subscriber send the Magazine as a present to some flower-loving friend, or add some bulb to your order instead. Here is the list:

Light Blue, Philomela, exquisite flowers.	Dark Bronze, Reconnaissance, fine.
Dark Blue, Alexander von Humboldt.	Pure White, Blanche superbe, splendid.
Light Yellow, Chrysolora, large, early.	Cream White, La Tendresse, pretty.
Dark Yellow, William III, fine variety.	Sulphur White, Belle Chamoise, fine.
Light Bronze, Le Prophete, yellowish.	Variegated, Formosa, olive and lilac.

All of these splendid named Orchid-flowering Iris, 10 bulbs, with trial Magazine, 10 cents. Or, if you get up a club of ten names, ($1.00), I will send a collection free for your trouble. Only a few thousand collections on hand. Order now. This advertisement will not appear often. Address

POTFULS OF NARCISSUS.

New Emperor, giant yellow flowers, 10c.
Pallidus Præcox, clear sulphur white, 6c.
Barri conspicuus, canary, scarlet edged cup, 8c.
Double Roman, double, yellow, clustered, 4c.

Double Daffodil, golden yellow flowers, 2c.
Soliel d'Or, golden yellow, clustered, 6c.
Pearl, pure white, equal to Joss flower, 8c.
Three Choice Narcissus, our selection, 15c.

The Ten Choice named bulbs, value 59 cents.

The entire collection, value 59 cents, only 35 cents, if ordered this month. If two collections are ordered I will add one bulb of the beautiful New Victoria Narcissus, value 15 cents. Get your neighbor to club with you. Order this month.

YOU ARE TO Be The Judge

You are to be the one to say whether it is or it isn't? whether you will or you won't; whether we are right or wrong. We leave it to you entirely for you to decide. The only evidence we want to submit is a full-sized $1.00 package of Vitae-Ore, which package we want you to try at our risk.

All we ask is a fair verdict. We say that Vitae-Ore will cure you, that one package used by you will prove it to be The Remedy for your case and condition. If it does not, YOU TO BE THE JUDGE, we want NOTHING from you.

Read Our Special Offer

WE will send to every subscriber or reader of Park's Floral Magazine or worthy person recommended by a subscriber or reader, a full-sized One Dollar package of Vitae-Ore, by mail, post-paid, sufficient for one month's treatment, to be paid for within one month's time after receipt, if the receiver can truthfully say that its use has done him or her more good than all the drugs and dopes of quacks or good doctors or patent medicines he or she has ever used. Read this over again carefully, and understand that we ask our pay only when it has done you good, and not before. We take all the risk; you have nothing to lose. If it does not benefit you, you may pay us nothing. Vitae-Ore is a natural, hard, adamant, rock-like substance—mineral Ore—mined from the ground like gold and silver, and requires about twenty years for oxidization. It contains free iron, free sulphur and magnesium and one package will equal in medicinal strength and curative value 100 gallons of the most powerful, efficacious mineral water drunk fresh at the springs. It is a geological discovery, to which there is nothing added or taken from. It is the marvel of the century for curing such diseases as Rheumatism, Bright's Disease, Blood Poisoning, Heart Trouble, Dropsy, Catarrh, and Throat Affections, Liver, Kidney and Bladder Ailments, Stomach and Female Disorders, La Grippe, Malarial Fever, Nervous Prostration and General Debility as thousands testify, and as no one, answering this, writing for a package, will deny after using. Vitae-Ore has cured more chronic, obstinate, pronounced incurable cases, than any other known medicine and will reach such cases with a more rapid and powerful curative action than any medicine, combination of Medicines, or doctors' prescriptions which it is possible to procure.

Vitae-Ore will do the same for you as it has for hundreds of readers of this magazine if you will give it a trial. Send for a $1 package at our risk. You have nothing to lose but the stamp to answer this announcement. We want no one's Money whom Vitae-Ore can not benefit. You are to be the judge! Can anything be more fair? What sensible person, no matter how prejudiced he or she may be, who desires a cure and is willing to pay for it, would hesitate to try Vitae-Ore on this liberal offer? One package is usually sufficient to cure ordinary cases; two or three for chronic, obstinate cases. We mean just what we say in this announcement, and will do just as we agree. Write to-day for a package at our risk and expense, giving your age and ailments, and mention this paper, so we may know that you are entitled to this liberal offer.

This offer will challenge the attention and consideration, and afterward the gratitude of every living person who desires better health, or who suffers pains, ills and diseases which have defied the medical world and grown worse with age. We care not for your skepticism, but ask only your investigation, and at our expense, regardless of what ills you have, by sending to us for a package. Address

IN THE DAYLIGHT.

Now comes the day-light, and the clover leaflets
Are open in the sun;
The evening Primrose, smiling till the morning,
And saucy Catch-fly, bee and insect scorning,
Like some vain belles, who dance from dark till dawning,
Close their petals, one by one,
And sleep till set of sun.

QUEEN VICTORIA DAFFODIL.

THE New Queen Victoria Daffodil is one of the most beautiful of the large-trumpet varieties. The flowers are of the largest size, the divisions of the perianth being the bulbs has kept the price high there, none being offered by dealers for less than thirty cents each. In this country this year fine bulbs may be purchased at fifteen cents each, a price that ought to make it popular. The plant is vigorous in growth and bears two or more of its huge, attractive flowers. It is perfectly hardy, and can be bedded out with safety at any time before the ground freezes, the soil being well impacted by treading after the bulb is covered. Once established the plant will take care of itself, and bloom freely for many years.

Sun for Hardy Bulbs.—Tulips like an open, sunny situation, and porous, well-drain-broad and overlapping, and pure white in color, while the long, bold trumpet is gracefully recurved at the margin, and is a clear, golden yellow. The form is fairly indicated in the accompanying engraving.

This grand Narcissus is greatly admired in England, and has been awarded a first class certificate by the Royal Horticultural Society, also by Botanic Societies, and the demand for ed soil. In a shady place and tenacious soil the bulbs will mostly bloom well the first season after planting, but will gradually disappear afterwards until none can be found. Wet seasons are especially hard upon Tulips, Hyacinths and other hardy bulbs, and if the conditions are unfavorable whole groups and beds of the bulbs will rot and fail to again appear.

Stephanotis.—Stephanotis floribunda is a hot-house evergreen climber from Madagascar. It has opposite, thick, leathery, glossy green leaves, and umbels of pure white, tubular, sweet-scented flowers. The plants may be found in bloom at almost any season of the year, and the cut flowers are useful for bouquets, wreaths and vases. Cuttings of the half-ripened wood inserted in moist sand and kept close, will soon strike root, after which pot in a compost of peat, loam, leaf-mould and sand. Water freely, and syringe often during the summer. It is also well to sponge the leaves with soapy water, to keep them clean. If attacked by mealy-bug, which is partial to this plant, syringe with hot quassia-chips tea.

Remedy for Ants.—A correspondent of The Weekly Florists' Review writes, "A very effective remedy for ants on lawns is to mix granulated sugar with arsenic and then with fresh bread crumbs, and sprinkle around their nests. One application is generally sufficient. Having wanted something to clean ants from lawns myself, and trying a number of recipes, I submit the above for the benefit of others similarly afflicted. Mix the sugar and arsenic thoroughly first, then add the crumbs and mix again."

Blighted Begonias.—Some of the Begonias are occasionally attacked by a fungus, which spots and dries the leaves, and ruins the beauty of the plants. When the blight appears, the affected leaves should be removed and burned, and some flowers of sulphur applied and worked into the surface soil.

CULTURE OF POLYANTHUS NARCISSUS.

THE Dutch Polyanthus Narcissus are among the most desirable of all bulbs for window culture. When well developed they can be depended upon to grow and bloom, and the care they require is trivial. The clusters of bloom are as large as those of the well-known Sacred Lily, which is a Chinese variety of Polyanthus Narcissus bearing white flowers with a yellow cup. In many respects, however, they are to be preferred to the Sacred Lily, as the flowers are of various colors, and some also show double flowers in beautiful variegation. Following are some of the best named varieties:

Grand Monarque, pure white with citron cup; flowers large and handsome, and borne in large trusses.

Gloriosa, white with orange cup; large, splendid truss; free-blooming.

States General, creamy white with yellow cup; very fine.

Soliel d' Or, rich yellow with orange cup. This is the best companion for the Sacred Lily, as it bears golden flowers in fine trusses. It is the variety that should be known as "Golden Sacred Lily."

Large-flowered Paper White, a popular sort largely grown in the South of France and imported and used by florists to force for winter flowers. It is easily grown and a desirable sort. It has rather small bulbs but blooms freely.

Double Roman, also a French-grown bulb. It bears large trusses of double flowers, variegated white and yellow.

The flowers of Polyanthus Narcissus are all very showy and very fragrant. They are fine

DISH OF NARCISSUS. vania we have known large beds of these bulbs to bloom well for years, when left undisturbed.

In pots of soil the bulbs should be set so that the neck will protrude above the surface, and a dark, rather warm place should be provided for them till the roots develop, when they should be brought gradually to the light. Avoid a hot, dry atmosphere. Water liberally, and place in a sunny window when the buds are ready to develop. Keep cool and away from direct sunlight when in bloom.

In glasses or dishes of water the bulbs should be so placed that the tops will stand erect. Do not let the bulbs touch the water, or at least avoid constant immersion. The base should be near to the water, but rarely touching it. Add water occasionally to replenish that used by evaporation. The dishes or glasses should be given a dark closet till roots form, then bring them to the window and encourage the bulbs to grow and bloom. Some lumps of charcoal in the water will prevent it from becoming stale, if pure water is used.

NARCISSUS POETICUS.

PERHAPS the hardiest and most common of the Daffodil family is Narcissus poeticus. It is a native of Southern Europe, and its introduction was so remote that the best informed authorities do not venture to predict the date. The flowers are mostly borne singly, on strong scapes, early in spring, and are very fragrant, two inches across, and pure white, with a cup-like centre tinged with red. The species is mostly known as Poet's Narcissus. It forms beautiful groups or marginal clumps, and is tenacious as well as handsome.

By the efforts of various Daffodil specialists the old form of Poet's Narcissus has been greatly improved. The variety known as N. poeticus poetarum has flowers from two and a half to three inches in diameter, and blooms earlier than the type. N. poeticus ornatus is a popular sort for forcing for Easter. The flowers are pure white with a large orange cup. N. poeticus stellaris is a late-flowered variety with narrow perianth divisions. N. poeticus Burbidgei is a fine sort with white flowers, the cup edged with scarlet. N. poeticus biflorus is a fine hybrid, each scape bearing two large, handsome flowers. N. poeticus flore pleno is the double gardenia-scented variety. All of these varieties are hardy, and deserve a place in every collection. The general form of the single hardy flowers is well shown in the engraving on first title page.

Staphylea trifolia.—This is a small native tree or shrub, commonly known as Bladder-nut, because of its inflated, membranaceous, bladder-like capsules. Each leaf is composed of three leaflets, ovate, pointed, slightly hairy beneath, and has a stem and a toothed margin. The flowers are white, borne in drooping, compound racemes. The capsule is in three divisions, and holds from one to three bony seeds which appear as if cut off at the base. The tree is mostly found in damp, shady woods, from North Carolina northward to New York.

Tuberose.—Tuberose clumps should be lifted early and the bulbs well dried and stored in a dry, warm room during winter. Pot early in spring the larger bulbs that have not yet bloomed, and water sparingly till growth begins, then freely. Avoid chills, and bed out when the weather becomes warm. A bulb that has once bloomed is mostly worthless for future use. The bulblets need several years of culture before they attain blooming size.

Ice Plant.—The seedlings of Ice Plant are liable to damp off if the ground is kept too moist, or the atmosphere too close. Like all succulents the Ice Plant resents a wet soil. When a tendency to damp off appears give less water and more air. It is better to sow the seeds in a box than in a bed, as the soil and atmosphere can thus be regulated by shifting.

CRINUM AND AMARYLLIS.

ONE of the floral sisters has a plant which she does not know, but thinks it may be Amaryllis belladonna. It throws up leaves two feet long and two inches broad, and bears in August a cluster of delicately-scented flowers which are white with a rosy band through the center. She winters it in the cellar, giving it a little water occasionally, and it begins to grow in February. The person who gave her the bulb called it a South American Lily. The Editor would inform her that the doubtful plant is not Amaryllis belladonna. That plant loses its leaves every year, and when growth begins the flower scapes appear first. It is not uncommon to see several scapes of bloom before the foliage appears in spring. Most of the huge long-necked bulbs sold as South American Lilies at flower stores and by fakirs upon the city streets are of the Crinum family. There are many species of this genus, and all are natives of warm or tropical lands. They should not be dried off entirely during the resting period.

Sansevieria Zeylanica.—This is a succulent plant, and must be watered sparingly, especially during the resting period. It should be repotted once a year and the foliage kept clean by sponging. It will grow in a water-tight pot, if judiciously watered, but it is better to give it good drainage and a porous soil. It will thrive out-doors in summer if given partial shade. It likes a warm, dry atmosphere, but is not easily chilled. It is propagated by cutting off and inserting the leaves in sand. One leaf will often start two or more plants. When a leaf is broken by accident it is always well to remove it and plant it in sand to the depth of an inch or more. The plants rarely bloom till several years old.

Gloxinias.—On the approach of winter dry off Gloxinias and keep them in a dry room at a temperature of 50° until spring, then repot them in fresh soil, water, and encourage growth. Do not water or start growth before repotting, as to remove the new fibrous roots would prove injurious to them.

Spotted Calla.—The tubers which develop upon the sides of the Spotted Calla may remain on for two years, or may be removed, as desired. Bedded out in a sunny place in summer and well mulched with stable litter as the heated term approaches, this plant blooms freely.

Starting Geraniums.—Geranium cuttings turn black and damp off when put in clay soil and kept constantly wet. The best starting material is fresh sharp sand kept well moistened.

Ammonia.—Spirits of ammonia is a liquid useful as a fertilizer. Add a tea-spoonful to three quarts of water used in watering. Apply once a week—not oftener.

CELASTRUS AND SOLANUM.

CELASTRUS scandens is a handsome shrub by native vine found in thickets and in brakes throughout the Northern States. The trunk is very pliable, and is readily twisted to assume any desired shape. The growth is rapid and the panicles of bloom are succeeded by clusters of showy orange fruits in autumn. These burst open when touched by frost, and reveal bright scarlet seeds. These clusters often hang on the vine and are ornamental throughout the winter. The common name is Staff Tree, but it is often called Bittersweet. It belongs to the Order Celastraceæ, and is a near relative of Euonymus Americana, or Spindle-tree.

Solanum dulcamara is a vine from Southern Europe which has escaped cultivation and is frequently found growing along old fence rows. It has purple flowers which resemble those of the garden Tomato, and the clusters of scarlet berries, about the size of currants filled with numerous small seeds, appear later.

The plant is a hardy perennial of trailing habit, and is suitable for a trellis, or for covering an old fence or low buildings. It belongs to the Night-shade family, Solanaceæ.

Chrysanthemum Rust.—A subscriber from Maryland complains of a rust or blight which affects her Chrysanthemums when the buds are ready to open. It appears first as spots upon the under side of the lower leaves and from there spreads until the foliage is brown and lifeless. It has ruined all of her plants, both of greenhouse and garden varieties, and she asks for a remedy. It is possible that spraying the plants with bordeaux mixture would be found beneficial. An addition of flowers of sulphur to the potting soil might prove useful, as also an application stirred into the surface soil about the garden plants. The disease is evidently a fungus, and spreads by spores. It would be well to gather infected leaves and burn them as fast as they appear.

Umbrella Plant.—The Umbrella Plant, Cyperus alternifolius, should be sparingly watered during winter and kept in a cool, but frost-proof place till spring. The need of rest is indicated by the fading of the leaves in late autumn. In the spring cut off the old tops, repot in rich, well-drained soil, and keep well watered. If drainage is good there is little danger of watering too liberally. The plants are readily propagated from seeds, and when well-grown are graceful and beautiful for window decoration.

Nicotiana.—Nicotiana affinis that bloomed during the summer can be lifted, potted, its tops cut back, and a new growth encouraged for winter-blooming. The roots may also be kept over winter in the cellar and bedded out in the spring. In a mild climate the plant is hardy, and even as far north as New York it is hardy when planted in a sheltered place and given some protection during winter.

OXALIS AND RUMEX.

OXALIS acetosella is the white or true Wood-sorrel. It has clover-like leaves and rather showy, five-petaled flowers, followed by somewhat egg-shaped capsules with five cavities each containing one or two seeds. It is one of two hundred and fifty species of Oxalis, most of which are natives of tropical regions. The genera belongs to the Geranium family.

Rumex acetosella is another plant often called Field or Sheep-sorrel, and on account of the specific and common names is sometimes confounded with the Oxalis. It is altogether different in character, as well as appearance, and belongs to a different Order—Polygonaceæ. It is a near relative of the Sour Dock, and has arrow-like leaves, which are very acid, and erect panicles of greenish-red flowers. It is mostly found in old spouty fields, and is often called Horse-sorrel. Where it is found the land contains too much acidity to be fertile, and the farmer usually regards its appearance as a sign that an alkaline application, such as lime or potash, will be beneficial. It is a farm weed, but is not generally difficult to eradicate.

Snowdrops.—The earliest of our spring flowers are the Snowdrops. Almost before the snow is gone the little greenish white buds appear and develop into exquisite little flowers rivaling the color and purity of the driven snow. The bulbs are perfectly hardy, and should be planted in autumn. They may be inserted in clumps among the grass upon the lawn, or set in the margin of the garden bed or border. Elwees Giant Snowdrop is one of the most showy, but the common single and double sorts are earlier, and always admirable.

Platycodon.—This hardy perennial often is known as Wahlenbergia, and oftener as Campanula Mariesi. It is easily grown from seeds, and bears showy and beautiful blue and white flowers. The plants are tenacious, and when once started will hold their place for years. It should be in every collection.

White Daffodil.—A very handsome hardy white Daffodil is N. pallidus præcox. The color is not a clear white, but rather a pleasing sulphur white. The flower is large and graceful and has twisted perianth segments, and a handsome, serrated trumpet. It is a desirable and worthy variety.

Spring Flowers.—Don't fail to plant a bed of hardy bulbs this autumn. The flowers will delight you in early spring, almost as soon as the snows disappear. With these bulbs you are sure of success.

Cacti and Odd Plants.

Floral Miscellany.

ODDITIES IN CACTI.

I WISH I were artist enough to draw a picture of a Cactus which I received under the name of Brain Cactus. I think it is a contorted form of Echinocactus Simpsonii. The spines are yellowish and white with a red line through the center of any lengthened part and a red spot in the center of any round part. It is very beautiful to a Cactus admirer. Another oddity is Cereus formosus monstrosus which I have grafted, and it does extremely well, as well as on its own roots. Its fine yellow spines render it more attractive than Cereus Peruvianus, which rivals it closely in its curious, coxcomb-like manner of growth. A handsome and desirable Cereus, and one which retains its beautiful blue color well, is Cereus Hankeanus. Still another curious plant of another family is Opuntia Ursina, which, with its long white hairs, reminds one of Pilocereus senilis, which latter is acknowledged by all to be one of the principal curiosities of Nature's kingdom.

Mrs. H. A. L.

Queens Co., N. Y.

Mammillarias.—It is a mistake to suppose that the Mammillarias are all small, as my Mammillaria nogalensis weighs several pounds, and with its interlacing yellow and white spines is very pretty. If a person cares for yellow spines let them choose M. erecta and M. eriacantha. M. elegans nivea is a marvel of white daintiness, and let its companion be M. lasiacantha. M. macromeris or Button Cactus is both curious and pretty—one of my plants having two distinct centers with new growth of snow-white spines. M. deceptions is not a handsome plant, but is desirable on account of its large, clear, lemon-colored blossoms, which are quite lasting. The blooms of many of this species such as M. applanata are insignificant, but are followed by a beautiful red berry or seed pod which brightens a whole collection. Many have longer spines and large pink flowers. A collection of Mammillarias alone is very attractive.

Mrs. H. A. L.

Queens Co., N. Y.

Cane Cactus.—I have a Cactus which is an inch and a half in circumference, and eight feet tall. I train it in rings and arches, and any way I want to. It is a curiosity to very many people. The bloom is as large as a saucer. We call it the Cane Cactus. I do not know the proper name. A Flower Lover.

Montgomery Co., Ind., Nov. 18, 1902.

[Ans.—The Cactus described is probably the Night-blooming Cereus—C. grandiflorus. The stock is usually fine-ribbed, and the flowers nocturnal, large, pearl white, with yellow sepals. Cereus triangularis is somewhat similar, but having a three-ribbed stalk, prickly bristles, and large white flowers with green sepals.—Ed.]

SUNDRY HINTS ON PLANT CULTURE.

HAVING lost many small plants by reason of the furnace heat in the house drying out the soil in two and three inch pots, the plan is now followed of placing three thumb pots in a four-inch saucer and keeping a supply of water there.

A pudding dish six inches in diameter, filled with moist sand serves for starting about two dozen slips at one time, and is very manageable and interesting.

Colors may be sorted out in a bed of mixed Tulips or Gladioli by clipping a leaf aslant for red, straight across for white, arrow shape for pink, notched for something else, etc. A little ingenuity will provide a distinct mark for every sort that is to be separated when lifting time comes.

Among many hardy Roses, Gabriel Luizet, pink, Margaret Dickson, white, Paul Neyron, large pink, are the finest in the bed. The best effect is produced by half a dozen or more of one sort together. The rose bed does well to be permanent, with a clay subsoil and fertile loam on top. With some care, Tulips, Gladioli and Asters can be planted in the rose bed, and make it a beauty through the whole season, and the necessary cultivation will prove beneficial.

A small vegetable garden hedged with Pæonies and Sweet Briar Roses on one side and Currants and Chrysanthemums on the curve of the other side seems to encourage the early Peas and the Lettuce to greater luxuriance.

A box of road-sand sunk on the north side of the house to get only the morning sun, is a good place to start slips in summer time. When the vigor of the plant is all going to leaf formation it is not so good a time to make slips as before or after. Leaving the half-cut slip hang for a week before detaching and planting, will make a strike of roots more certain.

Hardy shrubs can be propagated by slips quite generally, but root division gives a larger plant more quickly.

For removing from rose shoots their devouring swarms of green aphids, try a small flat varnish brush to sweep them off.

Plumbago in California.—There is a very luxuriant vine, with sky blue flowers growing in clusters, which one sees everywhere here. I admired it greatly and secretly until someone spoke of it as the Plumbago. Well! Have I not raised the Plumbago in a pot at home, and did I not think it a noble plant when it attained a foot or two high. It will completely cover a porch here, and climb twelve or fifteen feet, while it is one mass of bloom.

DEAD GRASSES.

Only a summer ago,
When the season of bloom was young,
Wooed by the sun's kindly glow,
Lito beauty and grace they sprung;
Now they are bleached and whitened
By the winter's frost and snow,
Yet the bare brown earth they brightened
Only a summer ago.

Yet lovely they are, though the fingers
Of Time leaves them faded and sere,
For all of their gracefulness lingers,
All of their beauty is there—
Delicate fairy like beauty,
Which brings once again to my sight
Visions of nooks by the brookside,
Visions of pale moonlight.

Where the plumes of feathery lightness
Wave spectral and white, they seem
Pale ghosts, which speak of the brightness
Of beautiful summer's gay dream;
Of days running over with gladness,
Now vanished beyond recall,
And they tell with eloquent sadness
Life's winter comes soon to us all.

And we, with the grace of the grasses,
Must bow our heads to the storm,
And bend 'neath the blast as it passes,
Nor suffer our souls to deform.
And when all life's sorrows are lightened,
And the storms are all weathered at last,
The soul shall in beauty be heightened
After the winter is past.

POPPIES.

Oh, weave me a garland of Poppies, dear,
White Poppies, to make me sleep;
For brain and heart are a-weary, dear,
As ever the watch I keep.
Sometimes I am strong as an eagle young,
But today my sadness is deep.

Sometimes I can see in the Promised Land
The gift of all things I desire,
And I buoyantly journey the livelong day,
My soul sustained by its fire;
But now, oh weave me a garland of sleep,
For the way grows dim, and I tire!

Oh, Poppies of sleep and of breathless ease,
Shelter my soul a space,
For I cannot see plainly my pathway now;
I see only one dear face,
And it shuts out the sight of the Ultimate Good
With its beauty, its strength and grace.

THE NETTLE'S COMPLAINT.

The bumblebee woos the clover-field,
To the Honeysuckle sails the bee.
Odorous nectar they freely yield,
But none woo me.

The humming-bird seeks the Lily's cup,
The zephyrs kiss the flowering lea,
Butterflies hesitate, pause and sup,
But none woo me.

ONE DAY.

One day
Upon the Maple tree
A bird was singing merrily,
And darling wife, who chanced to hear,
Said, "Robin's come, now spring is near."

One day
With wife I chanced to spy
A nest among the branches high,
And in the nest were birdlings four,
While Robin fitted past our door.

One day
That nest was empty there,
And four young birds in sad despair
Sat near the tree and softly cried,
Because the world was all too wide.

One day
We saw the robins spread
Their wings and vanish; sadly said
Dear Wife, "'Tis fall, no birds, no song
To cheer us through the months so long."

One day
Again the birds will come
To make sweet music near our home;
May angel bands on pliant wings
Watch o'er us till the robin sings.

MY CHOICE.

Oh, others may seek for pleasures
In the city's rush and roar,
But give me the sunlit valleys
And the mountains wild and hoar;

For I love the grand old forests
With their leafy temples dim,
Where in sweet and rhythmic measures
Somber Spruces chant their hymn.

Love the scarlet Maple swaying
O'er the rippling, dimpling stream,
Love the crash and roar of thunder,
And the lightning's lurid gleam;

Lighting up the rock-strown hillside
Where the white-robed birches grow,
With their tattered garments flying
O'er the mosses lying low.

Glad am I to learn the lessons
That I'm learning hour by hour,
Glad my soul to thrill with nature
One with the Creative Power.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS.

Scentsless! Yea, and rather large
I am forced to own,
But still, my dear Chrysanthemum,
You need not stand alone.
That head you droop so slightly,
As if afraid of blame,

May be with proud erectness held
To let folks know your name.
Your hue, though rather delicate,
In truth is very fair,

And with the best of Flora's band
Will favorably compare.
So now my brave Chrysanthemums
I'm glad to see you here,
For that bright, graceful head of yours
Makes winter seem less drear.

Bulbous Flowers.

GIANT HYACINTH.

THERE are some varieties of Hyacinths which produce enormous trusses of close-set, graceful flowers, borne by tall, heavy stems. The larger the bulbs, the larger will be the trusses. Well-grown specimens are often seen from twelve to fifteen inches tall, the stem and truss being in proportion to the height. These giant Hyacinths are mostly new varieties selected and grown with a view to produce mammoth bloom. Follow is a list of the best, showing all the leading colors: Jacques, light pink; Cardinal Wiseman, rose; Yellow Hummer, yellow; Snowball, pure white; La Grandesse, pure white; Master-piece, black; Sir Wm. Mansfield, mauve; Potgieter, porcelaine. These are all single, and are first-class sorts for culture either in pots or glasses in the house, or for the finest display in beds during the spring. Among giant double Hyacinths might be named Kohinoor, salmon pink; Sunflower, bright yellow; Lorens Koster, dark blue; Lord Wellington, pink; La Grandesse, double white; Isabella, blush pink.

GIANT HYACINTH.

To get the best results from the giant Hyacinths only the largest selected bulbs should be obtained. Such bulbs are usually sold at from fifteen to twenty-five cents each, and are cheap enough at that price. Given plenty of pot room and rich soil the bloom will prove a revelation to many who have grown only the common sorts.

Zephyranthes alba.—Everyone likes Lilies, and the Fairy Lilies are favorites with us all. My beautiful new house has a long border of the white ones, which grow and multiply rapidly in our southern clime. They bloom for a long time, twice a year. To raise them in pots give them good drainage, a loam and sand soil, sun and water, and they will repay you. They are especially lovely to have for weddings, funerals, churches or anywhere where white Lilies are appropriate. I have the Rosea which are the color of a Papa Gontier Rose, but I have not seen any of the scarlet since I ruined a pail of them my mother had, when I was a young girl at home. I over watered them. Does any one have them? If so, I want to hear from them.

Zephyranthes sulphurea is a yellow one, exceedingly handsome, and larger than the white and rose. These Fairy Lilies are great pets with floral people, and if you have none you surely are missing a most satisfactory bulb.

My Oxalis.—My Oxalis is a thing of beauty. I set it in the yard last summer. When frosts came I lifted it, put it into a pot of rich soil, cut the top all away, watered it every few days with warm water, gave it a sunny window, and oh my, how it has grown and bloomed! A perfect mound of pink! Every one admires it.

Buttercup Oxalis.—A large basket, or pot, of Bermuda Buttercup Oxalis in the window gives just the brightness that is needed. It is a true buttercup yellow, and blooms in great profusion all winter.

Calla Lily.—When a Calla begins to show fading leaves set it away, withhold water, and give it a season of rest. After two months repot it in fresh soil and start it into growth. It does well with good drainage and in rather tenacious soil.

FLOWERS IN CALIFORNIA.

A SNAGGY-looking shrub, with a trunk as thick as my wrist, I found to be the beautiful Lantana, so huge that I did not at first recognize it. The Fuchsias and Heliotropes, in many instances, cover whole sides of houses, and are one mass of bloom. Geraniums are not choice, such as we grow East. They are mostly scarlet. But the Pelargoniums are exquisite, every shade and combination of white, red, pink, lavender, purple and scarlet. The plant grows into a shrub, and is covered with bloom. Cannas do no better here than East, but Carnations are bounteous. They do best down by the sea, in the sand, heat and moisture. Of course everyone irrigates, and the sweet Violets bloom the entire spring, while one can have Sweet Peas all the time, by planting at intervals. Palms, Rubbers, and Grevilleas grow into immense trees. Tuberoses live the year around in the earth, and Amarylises grow in great clumps, with scarlet, crimson, pink, white, white and red, white and lavender, and white and pink lilies. The Umbrella Plant grows enormously, and Callas bloom in hedges. The pale-blue Plumbago grows into an immense vine, and the Moonflower is a handsome climber also. The fragrant yellow and white Honey-suckle covers the porches.

Ivy Geraniums are used along fences, up which they climb and cover with their pink bloom. Every one has Smilax, and succulents are used in the spaces between the walks and the streets. Papyrus grows here, and is very handsome. Bougainvillea makes an immense and handsome display, and Poinsettia is one of the oddities a stranger always notices. Cactuses are numerous, but grow wild farther toward the desert. The Prickly Pears bloom profusely. In the parks the Cactus display is a magnificent sight. One sees few Ferns anywhere, but plants of Asparagus are grown, and make trees. Begonias do well here with the same treatment they receive in the eastern climate. During the dry season grass, as well as everything else, must be irrigated, but on the beaches there grows in spite of dryness, a dainty Sea Verbena, delicate purple, also a yellow cup, and a glistening plant, which, when trod on, gives forth a juice. And it takes a tenderfoot to ask what kind of blossoms figs have. They have none! The fruit pushes out of the twigs!

Georgina S. Townsend.

Los Angeles Co., Cal.

[NOTE.—The Fig is a member of the Nettlewort family, Urticaceæ, and with the Rubber Tree and Southern Wall Creeper, is classed under the generic name Ficus. The fruit encloses the flowers, which vary in sex, the staminate flowers having three stamens and a three-parted calyx, while the pistillate flowers have an ovary and five-parted calyx. Both pistillate and staminate flowers are produced upon the same receptacle, the lower and most numerous flowers being the pistillate ones.—Ed]

CHRYSANTHEMUMS.

A FRIEND gave me a half dozen fancy Chrysanthemum sprouts. I procured a box eighteen inches deep and eighteen inches square, and filled it with rich leaf-mould. In it I set my plants, watering plentifully until I saw new leaves starting. They grew very fast, and in about three months were tall slender plants. In July I took them up and repotted them in pots, cutting off about three inches of the tops of them which I reset in the box. I used the leaf-mould in the pots, with small pebbles in the bottoms for drainage. The plants in the pots having been deprived of the main top, soon put out new branches and became nice bushy plants. The tops that I cut off all rooted nicely, and bloomed a little later than those in the pots. The Chrysanthemums are so easily propagated. When once you have a start of them, they keep on increasing in number from year to year. Although the fall was very dry here, I never saw Chrysanthemums do so well. Those out-doors began blooming in October and continued through the month of November up until the first of December.

Mrs. K. B. Peck.

Clark Co., Ind., Dec. 10, 1902.

Kochia Scoparia.—People who visited the Exposition at Buffalo, N. Y., were unstinted in their praise of the plant with the above name. It was represented as growing about two feet high, and was covered for a long time with bright red blossoms nestled amongst its finely cut foliage. Whether this is a new plant or not I cannot say, but it is new to me at least. Perhaps it is an old plant brought into prominence, that has long been lost sight of. I have been trying to get seeds for the last year, or more, but did not succeed until this spring when a friend sent me some, and now I have forty or fifty nice plants ten inches in height. It is a nice, compact grower, and quite hardy for an annual, and the seeds germinate more promptly than any seed I ever planted. John.

Linn Co., Ia., June 15, 1903.

Ambrosia.—I wonder why the Ambrosia is not more generally grown. We have always had it among our hardy flowers. It is an annual, but is self seeding. It bears transplanting, so one can plant it wherever wanted. The young plants come by the dozens in the spring, from last year's seeds. It sends up its spikes of odd, green flowers almost from the first. It is a dainty green, and deliciously sweet. We always put it among our bouquets of cut flowers, and considered our bouquets incomplete without its pretty sweetness. Just the last year or two I have seen it in our garden seed catalogues, and yet it is an old-time favorite. The plant is of the easiest culture. Give an individual plant plenty of room, and rich, deep soil, and it makes a large, handsome plant. Mrs. Olivia Gilliland.

FREESIAS.

THE Freesias are daintily pretty, with their creamy, waxen flowers, and their indescribably sweet fragrance. Grow them once successfully and they will become a permanent addition to your collection. The hills require but little care, and afford rich returns in bloom and fragrance just when flowers are scarcest. Plant four or five good-sized bulbs in a four or five inch pot, about an inch under ground. Use good, rich, garden soil with some sand, and have good drainage—charcoal or pebbles. Set them immediately after potting in a sunny window, and push the pot close to the glass. Don't keep them in a warm, dry room. Mine were so pretty last winter, that besides using my own bulbs I purchased a dozen and a half more this fall. Plant in August for Christmas bloom, and every two weeks for a succession of flowers. Give plenty of water after the blades begin to appear. I place a slender stake firmly in the center of the pot for a support.

Mrs. Olivia Gilliland.

Cass Co., Mo., Dec. 12, 1902.

Begonias.—Begonias are my favorite window plants. Some I prize for their lovely foliage, and others for both foliage and flowers. I have a Rex with luxuriant foliage; and two flowering Begonias, occupying the same dish, are similar in foliage, but one has pure white, and the other bright red blossoms. Being nearly perpetual bloomers, the dish is verily a bouquet of itself. The bronze-leaved and spotted-leaved and the Angels Wing, with their great wealth of pink jewels, are handsome, and all very easy to care for. Just give them good, rich soil, good drainage, plenty of water, and all but the Rex, a good shower bath once a week, and trim off all the inferior-looking leaves, and you will have beauties.

Mrs. E. D. P

Susquehanna Co., Pa., Aug. 20, 1903.

Several Palms in a Pot.—When Palms are raised from seeds it is quite a scheme to put from three to five plants of the same variety in one pot. They should be fully two inches apart, and in repotting, treat as one plant. I am growing several in this way, and by so doing, expect to have creditable specimens somewhat sooner; for, by the time each plant has grown one character leaf, the whole will be equal to a well developed plant.

Asparagus.—Asparagus plumosus nanus is very lovely and fern-like in appearance, and with the climbing, feathery A. tenuissimus, adds just the touch of airy grace needed in a window greenery. The latter needs about as much water as a Fern.

Dutchess Co., N. Y., Nov. 14, 1902.

CALCEOLARIAS.

I WISH all lovers of odd and beautiful flowers would buy Calceolarias. I had one last spring that for nearly two months was simply gorgeous. Everyone who came in would stop, on seeing it, and inquire, "What is that beautiful flower?" They can be grown either from seeds, or cuttings. For winter blooming start in the summer. They make lovely flowers for Easter. Give them soil composed of leaf-mould with some sand and a little garden soil mixed in. Keep moderately damp. They need rather large pots to bloom in. The flowers are of many bright colors, often bright yellow thickly spotted with red. They are so rich in color and so oddly shaped that many people first seeing them mistake them for artificial flowers. The clusters of flowers are often eight inches across.

Sansevieria zeylanica.—This plant is useful because there is always room for whatever will grow away from strong light; but give it very little water. It is always advisable to have a few plants which do not demand the best situations, yet are an ornament to the room.

BUSY DOCTOR

Sometimes Overlooks a Point.

The physician is such a busy man that he sometimes overlooks a valuable point to which his attention may be called by an intelligent patient who is a thinker.

"About a year ago my attention was called to Grape-Nuts by one of my patients," says a physician of Cincinnati.

"At the time my own health was bad and I was pretty well rundown but I saw in a minute that the theories behind Grape-Nuts were perfect and if the food was all that was claimed for it it was a perfect food so I commenced to use Grape-Nuts with warm milk twice a day and in a short time began to improve in every way and I am now much stronger, feel 50 per cent. better and weigh more than I ever did in my life.

"I know that all of this good is due to Grape-Nuts and I am firmly convinced that the claims made for the food are true. I have recommended it and still recommend the food to a great many of my patients with splendid results and in some cases the improvement of patients on this fine food has been wonderful.

"As a brain and nerve food, in fact as a general food, Grape-Nuts stands alone." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

And hoped that thy beauty my garden would grace.

TURK'S CAP LILIES.

ALL who have transplanted these Lilies from woods and meadows to garden nooks, or who have closely observed wild colonies, can testify to their variable color, size and shape. With age the petals of most of the flowers recurve into close coils, in true turban fashion. Again, mostly in young plants, the petals spread more widely and recurve only a little, giving the flower a much more graceful air.

Usually after transplanting, the lily stem doubles its height and number of flowers, but the color fades most disappointingly. One fine bulb that bore flowers of intense bright crimson I transplanted to a cool, moist, leafy place in the garden, only to have it fade into a dingy red. Yet the great stem towered above me with many flowers, and seemed the picture of luxuriant vigor. Planted in a dry spot, open to full sunlight, it is less vigorous yet the flowers are brighter, something I cannot account for.

The more generally cultivated Turk's-caps, L. chalcedonicum and L. martagon, are more constant in their fiery hues. They are as easily grown as the old Madonna Lily if left undisturbed, but do not seem to thrive well for a season or two after transplanting.

L. Greenlee.

McDowell Co., N. C., Aug. 10, 1903.

[NOTE.—The Turk's Cap Lily, Lilium superbum, is common in swamps in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The Editor once got a plant in a swamp at Monmouth Junction, N. J., which was ten feet tall, and a pyramid of open flowers. It is certainly a Lily that should be in every garden, as it is hardy, tenacious, and handsome.—ED.]

Baskets and Ferns.—I want to tell what a pretty hanging basket I saw. The lady put low-growing, hardy ferns in the moss, so they would come on the outside, and they were lovely. In the basket she had vines trained to run up the wires and some drooping. Those who live where hardy ferns are plentiful need never want for a pretty hanging basket.

POPPIES FOR A BULB BED.

A LARGE bed of Poppies near a hydrant, proved to be the most attractive spot in our yard. The plants grew—oh so rank, and were a solid sheet of bloom until killed by frost. A light shade of pink was beautiful, but I would always plant the mixed seeds. These would be nice to plant on a bulb bed. I planted California Poppies on a bulb bed last year, and it was a sheet of gold until very late in the fall. I planted the seeds early, scratching them in around the Tulips, before they were through blooming.

Australian Tree Fern.—The Australian Tree Fern is an ornamental foliage plant that every one should grow. Its leaves or fronds are immense, and of such an exquisite shade of green, so lacey and yet so substantial. It only requires ordinary treatment, such as one would give an Asparagus or Palm.

DOCTOR KNEW

Had Tried it Himself.

The doctor who has tried Postum Food Coffee knows that it is an easy, certain, and pleasant way out of the coffee habit and all of the ails following and he prescribes it for his patients as did a physician of Prospertown, N. J., one of his patients says: "During the summer just past I suffered terribly with a heavy feeling at the pit of my stomach and dizzy feelings in my head and then a blindness would come over my eyes so I would have to sit down. I would get so nervous I could hardly control my feelings.

"Finally I spoke to our family physician about it and he asked if I drank much coffee and mother told him that I did. He told me to immediately stop drinking coffee and drink Postum Food Coffee in its place as he and his family had used Postum and found it a powerful rebuilder and delicious food drink.

"I hesitated for a time, disliking the idea of having to give up my coffee but finally I got a package and found it to be all the Dr. said. Since drinking the Postum in place of coffee my dizziness, blindness and nervousness are all gone, my bowels are regular and I am again well and strong. That is a short statement of what Postum has done for me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What the Great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy Swamp-Root Will Do For YOU, Every Reader of Park's Floral Magazine May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly" begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering with fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; makes your head ache and back ache, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a sallow, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful remedy Swamp-Root, sent absolutely free by mail, also a book telling all about Swamp-Root, and containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women who owe their good health, in fact their very lives, to the great curative properties of Swamp-Root. In writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in PARK'S FLORAL MAGAZINE.

(Swamp-Root is pleasant to take.)

I CURE FITS

When I say I cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. Give Express and Post Office.

GOSSIP.

Dear Floral Band:—I wish to tell you of a Lily I have. About fourteen years ago I had a white Day Lily, but neglected to report it. I lived at that time in Indiana. The pot was set out of the cellar in the spring. It did no good, of course, and did not bloom. In the fall some one set it back in the cellar. The next spring it was set outside again, and in a few weeks, what was my surprise to see it bursting through the ground, but not a light green as before, but a dark green with purple spots all over the bud. I unpotted it at once and, it grew finely. The leaf stalks were spotted, and the leaves not more than half as wide as the old white Lily. It bloomed in August. Instead of white flowers, it had lilies, sixteen on one and fourteen on the other flower stalk, each Lily about half the size of the white. The petals well curved back, in color, white, and lilac veined, or as near that color as I can describe it. It bloomed two years for me in the North. We then came here, and it has bloomed every year since, but has not changed back. This will make the twelfth year it has bloomed.

10 CHOICE HYACINTHS, 30c.

Gertrude, deep pink, immense, compact trusses. Gigantea, light pink, an extraordinary variety. Gen. Pellissier, scarlet, superb for pots or beds. Baroness of Thuyt, cream white, graceful bells. Grandeur a Merveille, bluish white, very fine. Paix del Europe, pure white, one of the best. Chas. Dickens, azure blue, a superb spike of bells. King of Blues, dark blue, splendid long spike. La Peyrouse, lavender blue, exceedingly handsome. Ida, bright yellow, early, best of yellow Hyacinths.

This fine collection, embracing all colors, splendid bulbs, sure to bloom, will be mailed for 30 cents. The bulbs may be either bedded out or potted this month, and in either way will give good results. They are not the largest bulbs, but are of hardy sorts, and will improve and bloom for several years. A fine double Hyacinth will be sent for each order you may send besides your own. Thus for a club of five ($1.50) I will send four double Hyacinths in four best named sorts. Ninety-one Hyacinths for a bed, with hints for planting, mailed for only $2.70. Address

FOUND HER FORTUNE IN THE STARS

The Wonderful History of a Young Woman Who Raised Herself from Poverty to Wealth

BROOKLYN, N. Y. May 15. — The people of this city are wondering over the romantic story told by Miss Catherine Benoit, of 61 Pineapple Street, formerly a factory girl in this place at a salary of $3.00 a week, now a wealthy young woman and a prospective bride.

Telling her story to a reporter, she said: "Some time ago I saw an announcement in a paper which said that any one could have their fortune told free by corresponding with an astrologer in New York State, and one time while I was talking with some girls in the factory I told them about it. They laughed at me, and we all agreed it was a humbug, but in a spirit of jest I wrote to the astrologer to tell my fortune. He sent me my horoscope as he agreed, typewritten especially for me, without charge, and it certainly contained some wonderful things. He told me some remarkable things about my past, which I did not believe any one else living knew about, as well as several forecasts about the future which came true. I corresponded with him further and he laid the future before me like an open book. Among the other things he told me was that I would receive a legacy from a relative I did not know about, and that this would come to me by a trip to Boston. I did not expect at that time to go to Boston, but acting on a suggestion in the horoscope which said I would be lucky in lotteries, I took a ticket in a church bazaar which won me quite a beautiful prize. I sold the prize and in company with a friend took a trip to Boston, where I accidentally found a gentleman who turned out to be a relative of my mother's. He died some weeks afterward, leaving me the bulk of his fortune, which amounted to quite a large sum of money. Naturally, my experience got talked about, and I was introduced to the gentleman whom I am to marry next week. Of course, I feel very happy, but I hope you will not write up any sensation in the paper about me. The astrologer from whom I received my horoscope is Prof. Edison, of Binghamton, N. Y. He is truly a remarkable man, and convinced me thoroughly that he is an accomplished astrologer and knows what he is talking about. He has also sent free horoscopes to several of my friends, and they all say he is truly wonderful. I think everybody ought to write to him, as they would doubtless get information which would do them good."

MISS CATHERINE BENOIT.

Further investigation of the story told by Miss Catherine Benoit reveals the fact that Prof. Edison, of Binghamton, has been an astrologer for a number of years, and that he offers to send a free horoscope, revealing the past and future of any one, free of charge, if they will but send him a 2-cent stamp to pay postage. Although it is true that a number of people do not believe in astrology, it appears that even in Binghamton, his own town, he has made people realize that it is indeed a science

Any one interested in making their future successful and in knowing what their future contains should write to Prof. Edison immediately. He will send this free horoscope at once, without any charge, which will reveal the future certainly and without failure. He will tell you the history of your life from the cradle to the grave, what you can expect as your share of happiness and what is likely to come to you in unhappiness, unless you are in a position to avoid it. Therefore, write at once, stating sex, date and place of birth, enclosing a 2-cent stamp for postage, and a horoscope will be sent by return mail, free of charge. Address your letter to Prof. Edison, Avenue 1 L, Binghamton, N. Y.

WHY FRANK QUIT TOBACCO.

I saw a notice in our paper about a new discovery that was odorless and tasteless, that ladies could give in tea, coffee or any kind of food, which would quickly cure anyone of smoking cigars, pipe or cigarettes or chewing without their knowledge. I sent for a package and gave it to him secretly and he hasn't used tobacco in any form since. Anyone can have a free trial package by addressing Rogers Drug & Chemical Co., 780 Fifth and Race Sts., Cincinnati, Ohio, and easily drive foul tobacco smoke and dirty spittoons from the home.

Roman Hyacinths and Narcissus.

Hyacinths, White Roman, first size, 4 cents each, 40 cents per dozen.

Hyacinths, Blue, Blush, Pink and White Italian, 4 cents each, 40 cents per dozen.

Narcissus, Paper White, large-flowered, 2 cents each, 20 cents per dozen.

Narcissus, Double Roman, 2 cents each, 20 cents per dozen.

These are all first-class for pots or water culture, sure to bloom. The White Roman Hyacinth and Narcissus, and the large-flowered Paper White Narcissus are especially valuable, and the bulbs offered are very fine. For winter flowers you need not fear to order liberally of these. They rarely disappoint. Address

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

That Cheap Collection.—Mr. Park:—Can you not offer a cheap collection of small bulbs this fall? I think I could get the neighbors to send with me for such a collection.—Mrs. F. Hammond, Ohio.

ANS.—Agreeable to this Sister's wish I have secured and offer just such a collection, as advertised 10 bulbs for 15 cents including the Magazine a year. Thousands of my flower friends have ordered this collection, and included the orders of their neighbors which were secured by missionary effort. I am grateful for these favors, and gladly add all who work for club orders by sending blank lists, sample copies, booklets, etc. Let the good work go on.

Dear Floral Folks:—Envious, well I guess I was, and you would have been, too, to have seen a Chrysanthemum that measured sixteen inches around, and to think a man raised it. There are so few men who care for flowers. It was a beauty, called the Lavender Queen. I am quite sure there was only one blossom to the plant. When I returned home I went out and picked several bouquets off my Chrysanthemums, and the envious thoughts were gone, for I could give so many of mine away I did not care for the monster Chrysanthemum at all. Ima.

Cuban Lily.—I wish to know how to treat the Cuban Lily to make it bloom?—Mrs. Bishop, Ont.

WHAT FLOWER IS THIS?

The above picture does not look much like a beautiful spring flower, but it may suggest the name of such to the thoughtful mind. What is it? You will find the blooming plants in the meadows in May, the shining golden flowers making a fine show, even at a distance. The little girls often trim their hats with them, and the boys gather bouquets of them for their mother. If the fierce looking little animal represented in the picture was in the meadow, however, the bravest of the little boys would hardly venture to get the golden blooms.

To any one who will during this month, send the name of the flower, together with a subscription (ten cents), for Magazine with premium of ten Spanish Iris, a packet of choice flower seeds, our selection, will be sent with the bulbs as a reward for the effort.

CHILDREN'S CORNER.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am thirteen years of age. I like flowers, and live on a farm near the woods, where there are many wild flowers. I like to piece quilts and do fancy work. We have used your seeds and plants, and liked them. I like to read the Children's Corner, and mother likes to read your Magazine very much.

Ralls Co., Mo., April 12, 1903.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am eight years old. My sister takes your Magazine, and I read every word about flowers. Mamma says we could not raise flowers without it. I love flowers and have some of my own. I plant lots of flower seeds. We have a nice flower garden where we live. I will write and tell you about it sometime.

Rheumatism Cured Through the Feet.

Jackson's Man Discovers an External Cure by Analyzing Foot Sweat. Relief is immediate.

Try It---FREE!

Anyone can try—without paying a cent—the famous Magic Foot Drafts, which always bring comfort and almost always permanently cure Rheumatism, either chronic or acute, no matter how severe. Hundreds of thousands of pairs of Drafts have been sent on approval all over the world and the makers are still sending them to every sufferer they can hear of.

Send your name today. You get the Drafts by return mail. If you are fully satisfied with the help they give you, then you can send One Dollar. If not, keep your money. You decide.

Magic Foot Drafts work like Magic. Cured patients tell us they perform miracles. They do not. They are scientific—logical. The foot pores, the largest in the body, are located over rich nerv. and vascular centers. The Draft on the foot acts through them on every inch of the body—curing Rheumatism no matter where located. Our booklet makes the reason clear.

TRADE MARK

Sixty-eight per cent of the nitrogen of the foot sweat drawn out through the great foot pores and absorbed by Magic Foot Drafts is in the form of the poison Urea, the basic cause of Rheumatism. The poison is drawn out in exceedingly small particles, but the Drafts work 24 hours a day, swiftly and surely, and when the cure is once effected, it is permanent, for the cause of Rheumatism has been removed. The Drafts are comfortable, safe and sure. Don't suffer needlessly. You are not risking a penny and the chances are nine out of ten that the Drafts will cure you, as they have so many thousands of cases just like yours.

Magic Foot Drafts cured Mrs. Leah Brumbaugh, Postmistress of Coburg, Neb., in 1901, and there has been no return of pain.

They cured both Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lincoln of Rochester, New York, over a year ago. No pain since.

R. D. Cummings of Fort Worth, writes: "I have never felt any rheumatic pains after I used Magic Foot Drafts last June (1902)."

Mrs. F. N. Potter, of Shelton, Conn., writes: "I was a poor miserable object when I first applied the Drafts. Now I bless the day I heard of them."

It would take you many weeks to read the grateful letters of cured old rheumatics from every land on earth to the makers of Magic Foot Drafts. Try them yourself. Write today to the Magic Foot Draft Co., 1191 Oliver Bldg., Jackson, Michigan, for a pair of Drafts free on approval. Valuable booklet for rheumatics also free. Send no money only your name.

will send you this newest,
most stylish fall and winter dress
hat by express.

After received,
if you do not say
it is a more stylish,
dressier, more becoming and a handsomer hat than your milliner could possibly design and make at any price, if you and your friends do not admit that you could not buy the high grade materials
and trimmings alone for our

special price, if they do not say the hat is worth every cent of $5.00, a much finer hat than any of the cheap, trashy hats widely advertised at the same or lower prices, you can return it to us at our expense and we will immediately return your money. This handsome, richly designed dress hat is our own exclusive creation for the fall and winter, positively one of the new up to date styles which will be EXTREMELY FASHIONABLE AND BECOMING FOR YOUNG AND OLD ALIKE.

A GENUINE ALL SILK VELVET DRESS HAT TRIMMED
IN OSTRICH FEATHERS, JET BUCKLE AND JET DROP SPANGLES. Hand made on a buckram frame, raised on both sides, drooping in back and front, a very becoming shape. The upper part of hat, crown and brim, are made of the finest quality black Paon or mirror silk velvet draped in artistic folds. The facing, as well as part of the brim, is overlaid with black taffeta silk. Directly in front and caught to the crown is a fancy jet buckle through which a twist of black Paon velvet is drawn, extends in a fold over the crown and caught to the back of brim. TWO BLACK OSTRICH HALF PLUMES fall gracefully over brim. Around the entire brim is a row of drop jet flatter spangles, a new and stylish trimming for the season, completing a very rich, distinctive, fashionable, and beautiful effect. The black velvetta bandeau on the left is trimmed with taffeta silk. The hat, exactly as described in black, is very rich and stylish, but it can also be ordered in brown, castor or navy blue,
with exception of the spangles, buckle and ostrich feathers, WHICH COME IN BLACK ONLY.

$1.95 barely covers the cost of material. We make this extremely low price merely as an advertisement for our millinery department. If you order this new, stylish, richly designed fall and winter hat at $1.95 you will be saving more than one-half in price; you will be getting one of the handsomest styles that will be shown, A HAT THAT CARRIES CITY STYLE AND DISTINCTIVENESS IN EVERY FEATURE.

SPECIAL TO MILLINERS. Our Free Millinery
Catalogue, sent on request, shows astonishingly low prices on our complete

A FLORAL CHARADE.

1, 2, 3, 4, by a pun,
Signifies the joy of one
Whose debts are lessened by a penny;
But if of debts he hasn't any,
First he still has right to be,
With half a second you can see.
"Three, yes," you say, "to three is wrong,
Two would not care to do so long,"
And four, if plural, is untrue,
So thus a wrong that two could do.
The word, 'tis singular, when restored,
Unsheathes an iridaceous sword.

Hyacinths After Blooming.—A sister from Wayne County, Pa., writes:

After my Hyacinths have done blooming in the window, and the leaves have reached their full size, I remove them to the cellar, where they get a little light (more would be better), watering when necessary as long as the foliage keeps green and active, and the bulbs get ripe and solid. In August I shake them out of the soil and save all the larger ones until the time of planting in the border. The next season I place a few of the extra nice ones in tin cans for window culture, as I can get them earlier than those I buy, but not as fine spikes of bloom can be expected of them.

Little Device that Instantly
Restores the Hearing—Fits Perfectly, Comfortably, and Does Not Show.

190-PAGE BOOK FREE TELLS ALL ABOUT IT.

Since the discovery of a Louisville man it is no longer necessary for any deaf person to carry a trumpet, a tube, or any such old-fashioned device, for it is now possible for any one to hear perfectly by a simple invention that fits in the ear and can not be detected. The honor belongs to Mr. George H. Wilson, of Louisville, who was himself deaf, and now hears as well as any one. He calls it Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drum, is built on the strictest scientific principles, containing no metal of any kind, and is entirely new in every respect. It is effective even when the natural ear drums are partially or entirely destroyed, perforated, scarred, relaxed or thickened. It fits any ear from childhood to old age, and, aside from the fact that it does not show, it never causes the hearer irritation, and can be used with comfort day or night.

It will cure deafness in any person no matter how acquired, whether from catarrh, scarlet fever, typhoid or brain fever, measles, whooping cough, gathering in the ear, shocks from artillery, or through accidents. It not only cures but stays the progress of deafness and all roaring buzzing noises.

Let every person who needs this at once send to the company for its 190-page book, which you can have free. It describes and illustrates Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drums and contains many bonafide letters from numerous users in the United States, Canada, Mexico, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, India. These letters are from people in every station in life—clergymen, physicians, lawyers, merchants, society ladies, etc.—and tell the truth about the benefits to be derived from the use of this wonderful little device; you will find among them the names of people in your own town or state, and you are at liberty to write to any of them you wish and secure their opinion as to the merits of the only scientific ear drums for restoring the hearing to its normal condition.

Write to-day and it will not be long before you are again hearing. Address for the free book and convincing evidence, Wilson Ear Drum Co., 1269 Todd Building, Louisville, Ky., U. S. A.

HIS LAST SHOT.

It is to be regretted that many men who occupy positions of great influence find pleasure in slaughtering birds and animals as sport. It seems cruel and inhuman to thus treat or mistreat poor dumb brutes, but it is possible such "pleasure" will be indulged in until we reach a higher state of civilization, or until the feelings of humanity become more refined and considerate. It is true that some indulge thoughtlessly in hunting because the cruelty of the sport never occurred to them. The conversion of a sportsman is told in the following translation from Lamartine:

"A harmless, happy roebuck bounded joyously over the wild thyme on the verge of the wood. Now and then I could see him above the heather, pricking his ears, butting in play, warming his dewy flanks in the rising sun, and browsing on the young shoots, in his innocent revel of solitude and safety.

I am a sportsman's son and spent my boyhood with my father's gamekeepers. I had never thought about the brutal instinct that leads man to find amusement in slaughter, and to destroy without necessity, justice, pity or right, animals who might equally claim to hunt and slay him if they were as ruthless, well armed and savage in their pleasures as he is in his. My dog was on the alert, my gun pointed, the deer right ahead. I did feel a certain hesitation and remorse at cutting short such a life—such joy and innocence in a creature that had never harmed me, and that delighted in the same sunshine, the same dew, the same morning freshness, that I did; created by the same Providence, perhaps endowed in a different degree with the same thought and sensibility, perhaps bound in the same ties of affection and relationship—looking for his brother, waiting for his mother, his mate, his little one. But Nature's recoil from murder was overborne by the mechanical instinct of habit. I fired. The roebuck fell, his shoulder broken by the shot, and his blood reddening the turf on which he vainly struggled in his agony.

When the smoke dispersed I approached, pale and shuddering at my misdeed. The poor, lovely creature, was not dead. It looked at me, its head sunk on the grass, its eyes swimming in tears. Never shall I forget that look, to which amazement, suffering, and untimely death seemed to give a human depth of feeling quite as intelligible as words—for the eye has its language, and most of all when about to close forever. That look said distinctly, with a heart-rending reproach for my wanton cruelty. "What are you? I do not know; I never offended you. Perhaps I should have loved you. Why have you struck me with death! Why have you snatched from me my share of sky and breeze, of light and joy and life? What will become of my mother, my mate, my fawn, waiting for me in the brake, to see only these torn tufts of hair and these drops of blood on the heather? Is there not above an avenger for me and a judge for you?"

This is literally what the eyes of the wounded deer seemed to say. I understood and reproached myself as if it had spoken with a voice. "Put an end to me now," it seemed to say, too, by the grief in its eyes and the helpless shiver in its limbs. I would have given anything to undo what I had done. Alas! the most merciful close to my pitiless work was to shoot my poor victim once more, and so put it out of its misery. Then I flung my gun away, and in truth shed tears of which I am not ashamed. My dog knew something of my meaning; he did not stir, but lay beside me sad and abashed, as if he mourned with me and the victim of this cruel, wanton sacrifice.

I abandoned forever the brutal pleasure of murder, the sportsman's savage despotism which, without need, right or pity, takes away the life that he cannot restore. I swore to myself never again to cut short in my caprice of an hour of sunshine enjoyed by these denizens of the woods and by the birds of heaven, who taste like us, the transient ecstasy of light and the more or less vague consciousness of existence under the same sky as ourselves."

BRIEF ANSWERS.

Catalonian Jasmine.—An esteemed correspondent takes exception to the Rhynchospermum Jasminoides being called Catalonian Jasmine, that the name belongs to a Spanish Jasmine known as J. multiflorum. English authorities say that the name is rightfully given to Jasmine grandiflorum, a species from the Himalayas, "a warm greenhouse shrub much like J. officinale, and that J. multiflora is a synonym of J. pubescens, a species from China, introduced in 1759. In America the Rhynchospermum Jasminoides has been known as Catalonian Jasmine for many years, though perhaps without authority. It is only another, but common name for that lovely evergreen shrubby vine introduced from Shanghai in 1846 and called by Lindley Rhynchospermum Jasminoides, from Rhynchos, snout, and sperma, seed; by Lemaire Trachelospermum, from trachelos, the neck, and sperma, and Parechites by Asa Gray. It belongs to the order Apocynaceae, the Dog-bane family, to which the well-known plants Allamanda and Nerium or Oleander belong, as well as the common Dog-bane, Apocynum. The Jas nine belongs to the Natural Order, Oleaceae, the Olive family, which includes the Forsythia, Syringa or Lilac, Ligustrum or Privet, and the Fraxinus or Ash. In closing our correspondent adds "But what does it matter, for both the Rhynchospermum and Jasmine are desirable plants," to which those who know them will agree.

Aloe.—A sister writes that she has a plant that is succulent like Sansevieria, but the leaves are covered with tiny, raised silvery spots. People who see it call it Deer Tongue and Snake Cactus. It is probably a species of Aloe.

Gossip.

Dear Sisters:—The window gardeners have had a lazy time of it for months, but now comes the tug of war. All the plants to get in, and arranged, and worst of all, to decide which ones we must sacrifice, since all cannot come in. And then to get our bulbs potted and tucked away in the dark sufficiently early to make our winter window gardens places of bloom. We can't depend on our Palms and Ferns and Rubber Trees for bloom, but once the bulbs get a good start, we can make a most magnificent showing. One can never have too many bulbs. Kit Clover.

Cook Co., Ill.

Dear Floral Folks:—My Flowering Maple, started last spring, is now fifteen inches high, with seven buds and one lovely cup-shaped blossom an inch and a half in diameter, with a yellow center. It began blooming when very young, and has seldom been without a blossom. It is a beautiful and interesting plant. My Calla (Spotted) bloomed when only a month and a half old. A beautiful, white, waxen bloom that lasts over a week and looks very pretty among the dark green, spotted leaves, which are an ornament themselves. Mrs. M. E. Elmer.

Livingstone Co., Ill.

Mr. Park:—Your excellent Floral Journal comes to me regularly, and am glad to testify that I have received more information and pleasure by perusal of its pages than from any other floral publication. Its information is always practical and reliable and therefore of very great value.—Mrs. S. E. Smyth, Buffalo, N. Y.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Hoya or Wax Plant.—Mr. Park:—The plant that my slip of Wax Plant came off of did not bloom much, and I was discouraged about my plant. It is on a frame five feet high, and from one foot to two feet in width. It covers both sides of the frame. Last year it had one cluster of bloom. It is seven years old. Last September we reported it, putting it in a candy bucket. You may imagine my surprise about the middle of April, when I thought I would look at it and see if there were any buds. I counted twenty-four bunches, and in about a week there were forty bunches. It is through blooming now, but bloomed for three months. It had twenty-eight clusters of bloom on it at once, and maybe you think it wasn't lovely! Oh, how sweet! I counted the stems the other day and found fifty. All bloomed once, and eighteen bloomed twice, and one bloomed three times on the same stem this summer. It is growing fast now. Is there any way to keep it pruned back? It is large enough now for a small house, and I want to keep other plants, too. I have several varieties. I am glad that you told us not to pull off the flower stems, or I suppose I would have pulled them off, as I do with other plants. Mrs. Irene Elliot.

Rice Co., Kans., Aug. 10, 1903.

[Ans.—The best way to keep the Wax Plant dwarf and convenient to handle is to avoid frequent reporting. The vine can be cut back, but it is likely to make more vigor its growth because of such pruning, and by cutting back many of the blooming spurs may be unavoidably removed.—Ed.]

THE OLD FOLKS' CORNER.

The Old Folks' Corner vacant seems
Beside the open grate;
No one within its shadow dreams
Of Heaven's pearly gate.
Grandmother sat there long ago,
With Bible in her hand;
Her shining curls were white as snow,
Her voice was low and bland.

She rested there for many a year,
Then softly passed away;
For her sweet sake the place is dear
To me, who old and gray,
Will never have the time to share
That easy nook and rest,
Each day I have mete of care
And this for me is best.

Up in the dawning's rosy light
All Nature's charms are new,
Each day in passing grows more bright
With bending skies more blue.
I breathe new life in every wave
Of bracing wintry air,
And living thus I do not crave
Grandmother's Corner there.

Empty and silent let it be
To memory sacred still,
While I from idle dreamings free
A place of action fill.
God give me strength to work each day
Till from the courts above,
I hear His holy angels say
"Come share our rest and love."

BULBS FOR THE CEMETERY.

Only 25 cents for a Fine Collection of 15 Hardy Bulbs, suitable for Cemetery Decoration.

- 1 Iris Florentina, large, showy, fragrant, white flowers.
- 1 Lilium Takesium, charming, fragrant, white trumpets.
- 2 Leucojum aestivum, clusters of snowdrop-like white flowers.
- 3 Narcissus albidus stella, lovely white starry Daffodil.
- 3 Narcissus Poeticus Burbidgei, superb white single Daffodil.
- 5 Muscari botryoides alba, an exquisite spring-flowering sort.

In planting these, if you wish them in a row, set the Iris first, then 15 inches distant the Lily, then the other ten inches apart, in the order named. If you wish a square or round group place the Iris and Lily at the center, and group the others around.

As a rule the cemetery lot cannot receive the attention that most plants need, and grass and drouth often do great injury to the more delicate things planted. The above plants, however, are hardy enough and persistent enough to hold their own, and can be depended upon for a fine spring and summer display for many seasons, even if neglected. They should be planted during October or November. In the spring set a few seedling plants of white or purple Verbenas or white Petunias among the bulbous flowers and you will have a display of pretty and showy flowers until winter. A packet of seeds of the Petunias will be included with the bulbs. They should be sown early in spring, either in a window box or in a sheltered bed out-doors. The bulbs offered should be set four inches deep except the Lily, which should be seven or eight inches deep, and the Iris, which should be planted so the tops will protrude above the soil. This plant is slow to ripen and cannot be mailed before November.

$20000000 WORTH OF GINSENG

"Can be marketed annually in China," writes U. S. Consul Johnson from Amoy, China. Entire Chinese population, 400,000,000, uses it for medicinal properties. Big demand, small supply. Be a Ginseng grower! Easily grown. Profits so immense that true statements seem falsehoods. One acre of 4-year old Ginseng is worth $40,000—this is a conservative statement. Hardy anywhere in the U. S. and Canada. We sell cultivated roots and stratified seed. $10 to $50 worth, properly cared for, will yield a small fortune. Send 4c for 55-page Book on enormous, easily-earned profit in Ginseng and copy of magazine, "The Ginseng Garden."

CHILDREN'S CORNER.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am a little girl fourteen years old, and I am a winder in the Norfolk silk mill. I wind black five-thread suple. I like it. Mamma takes your Magazine, and I read it every month. My little sister has a little white rabbit named Bonny. We live on the edge of the Elizabeth river, and can see all of the large boats as they pass. It is nice and cool in summer, but it is very cold in winter. Mamma has a Calla Lily nearly two years old. It has bloomed four times this summer. We have lots of other flowers. We have lovely Tuberoses. Belle Powers. Mecklenburg Co., Va., Aug. 1, 1903.

Mr. Park:—I have seen so many nice letters in your Magazine and like to read them so well. I thought I would write. We have a nice flower bed, and we think the Poppies help it in every way. We also have many other kinds of flowers. I love flowers, and take your Magazine. We all like it very well. Cecile Brezee.

Barry Co., Mich., July 7, 1903.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am a little girl nearly eleven years old, and I like to go to school. I am in the fifth reader. I like flowers better than I do pets. I have one sister and two brothers. My papa keeps store. Mamma has taken your Magazine for three or four years. Florence E. Reid. Worcester Co., Md.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am thirteen years old, and have taken your Magazine for about two years and like it. I love to read the Children's Corner. My flowers last summer were very pretty. Nora Brody.

GREENHOUSE SHRUBS.

Dear Floral Folks:—There is hardly anything prettier than the long, waxy, white flowers of the single Bouvardia, and at night they shed a Jessamine-like fragrance that is delightful. The foliage is small and dainty, and unlike most shrubs, has no suggestion of coarseness in either flower or foliage.

Aloysia Citriodora, or Lemon Verbena, is a valuable shrub grown solely for its foliage, and this foliage makes excellent greenery for cut flowers.

ABUTILON.

There is hardly anything prettier than a well-grown plant of the Abutilon, covered with its beautiful pink or golden bells. Some of the variegated sorts, when well grown, are ornamental as a Palm and make beautiful decorative plants, even when not in bloom. The new Abutilon Savitzi is dwarf, and has a more decided variegation than the well known Souvenir de Bonn.

The large showy flowers of the Hibiscus are greatly admired, and the bright foliage is very attractive. This grows and blooms in either summer or winter, if given sufficient warmth and sunlight. The plants are tropical shrubs, and need all the sunlight possible.

The Gardenia, or Cape Jessamine, is a very popular shrub, and the flowers are exceedingly sweet, opening a creamy white at first, changing to a golden yellow with age, and the dahl golden, velvety petals are beautiful. Laura Jones.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints. Having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, and desiring to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who wish it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail, by addressing, with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. NOYES, 847 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

EASTER LILY.

Oh! Easter Lily rare,
Wide your open petals fair;
With fragrance beyond compare,
Let your perfume fill the air.

In stately beauty bright,
Ye greet the Lord of light;
Fill our souls with new delight,
By your blossoms all in white.

Blest emblem of the day,
When He, to whom we pray,
Broke the bands of death away,
And lives again alway.

"He is risen," let us say,
On the radiant Easter day,
And our Lilies let us lay
On the altar where we pray.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Park:—Two years ago I got some Begonia seeds, the first I ever saw, and when they came I scarcely expected to see them come up, they were so small. I planted them in a four-inch pot and covered them with glass, and then began to watch for them to come through, which they did, much to my surprise, in about a week. How slow they were to grow until I almost gave up hopes. One day I took off the glass and left it off for an hour or more, and all my plants were gone, but I put the glass back, and in a few days some more came through. Then I thought I would not work more by guess, and got some copies of your Magazine and read all I could find about Begonias. I succeeded in raising twelve, I kept three and gave the rest to my children and friends.

THAT "FRUIT-GROWER'S" WAIL.

A Farm Journal contains the following wail about robins:

"Laws have been made protecting robins and other birds that eat both fruit and insects, on the ground that their destruction of insects was good pay for the fruit they consumed. This season, in many cases, they took the entire crop of fruit. It seems evident that the laws will have to be changed. It is the fruit grower that needs protection."

What a "fruit-grower" he must be who raises no more fruit than a few song birds will eat. Why not put in an extra tree for the birds when planting. Selfish and short-sighted indeed must he be who begrudges the robin and other birds that destroy so many noxious worms and insects in the orchard and garden, and give a free concert every morning and evening during summer, the few cherries they eat—mostly taken from the top of the tree and inaccessible branches. The laws protecting birds are all right as far as they go. It is only to be regretted they are not stronger.

In the same paper was the following:

"Keep a good cat at the barn. This helps to clear the stables of rats and mice. I have known of some horses that were made very nervous by mice and rats chasing about their stalls."

As a rule the cat kept at the barn is neglected, and during the summer, when mice and rats are often scarce at the barn, acquire the habit of foraging along the fence rows, and in fields where our insectivorous song birds are nesting, and destroy more—many more birds and birdlings than they do mice and rats. Cats are useful as ornaments in winter to lie under the stove and purr in daytime, and might be put into the barn to rid it of pests at night, if thought to be useful in that way. In spring most of them should be destroyed to save the birds. As a class, they are natural enemies of birds, and there ought to be a law exacting a tax on every cat owned, while the unowned, worthless, bird-destroyers would find a place as they should, "at the bottom of the sea."

In this connection the following clipping from Dumb Animals may be of interest, and it is heartily endorsed by the Editor as his belief also.

"If there were no birds man could not live on the earth."

"It is asserted by scientists that if only the small birds on this earth were destroyed, all vegetation, because of the enormous increase of insects, would be eaten by them, and every human being and every animal would perish."
